

Babeş-Bolyai University Cluj-Napoca
2012-2013

“Ecumene” Doctoral School in Theology

Doctoral supervisors

Buzogány Dezső

Theology, History of Church

Marton József

Theology, History of Church, Pastoral and Didactic Theology

Molnár János

Theology, Biblical, Pastoral and Didactic Theology

Affiliated academic staff

Hézser Gábor

Theology, Pastoral Theology

Holló László

Theology, Moral Theology

Corina Zamfir

Theology, Biblical Theology

Nóda Mózes

Theology, History of Church and Liturgy

Description

The “Ecumene” Doctoral School organizes the scientific doctoral studies program. Following completion of the PhD scientific studies, the Babes-Bolyai University grants the PhD diploma and the title of doctor in theology.

The doctoral studies of a PhD student are organized over a period of 3 academic years, and they include:

- A training program based on advanced academic studies within the Doctoral School and consists of activities in institutionalized formations of study.
- An individual program of scientific research.
- Doctoral studies end with the public defense of an original paper called doctoral thesis, which is the result of the research conducted by the PhD student during doctoral studies.

Doctoral studies can be conducted in one of the following languages: Romanian, Hungarian, German, English or other international foreign language.

Material basis

History of Church Research Laboratory

Computers, printers, scanners, high performance digital cameras, stand for the photo reproduction of archive documents, photo equipment for photographing objects of worship (lenses, tripods, lighting kits, reflectors, flashes), projector, projection screen, etc..

Contact

janos_molnar@yahoo.com