

Personal details

Lisbeth Pettersen Wærp

Tromsø

Profile

Professor of Scandinavian Literature, University of Tromsø – The Arctic University of Norway, Department of Language and Culture. Research fields: Scandinavian literature from 19th century - today, especially Ibsen, Hamsun, Vesaas, Fosse, and Arctic literature. Currently working with a project on corruption in Ibsen's contemporary plays; a project on film adaptations of Ibsen's and Hamsun's works plus a project on the representation of the Sami in Hamsun's authorship.

Education

Master of arts

University of Oslo

1990

Dr.art. (phd)

University of Tromsø

2000

Employment

Associate professor

University of Tromsø

2001 - Present

- Associate professor University of Tromsø, from 2001

Full professor

University of Tromsø

2007 - Present

- Full professor at University of Tromsø from 2007

Editor

Edda (academic journal)

2005 - 2010

- Editor of the academic journal Edda, 2005-2010

Editorial board member

Ibsen Studies

2003 - Present

- Editorial board: Ibsen Studies from 2003

President

The International Ibsen Committee

2018 - 2025

- President of The International Ibsen Committee 2018-2025

Leader

The Ibsen/Hamsun Network, member of the research group Arctic Humanities (Arctic Voices), UiT –The Arctic University of Norway

Present

- Leader of the research group The Ibsen/Hamsun Network, member of the research group Arctic Humanities (new name Arctic Voices), both at UiT –The Arctic University of Norway

References

References available upon request.

Tromsø, May 27, 2025

Lisbeth F. Wøyer