Onomastics, Historical Onomastics, Cognitive Linguistics, Cognitive Approach in Onomastics

She previously studied the medieval Hungarian name corpora, the subject of her dissertation thesis is Oronyms in Medieval Hungary (2009, published as Hegynevek a középkori Magyarországon, 2011). In recent years she has dealt with theoretical questions of name-giving and name-usage as well as mental representation of proper names. She approaches proper names as part of the cognitive system and defended her habilitation dissertation on this topic in 2021 (published as Kognitív szemlélet a névkutatásban [Cognitive Approach in Onomastics], 2022).
