

“Isidor Todoran” Doctoral School in Orthodox Theology

The Doctoral School in Theology from the Faculty of Orthodox Theology through the efforts of teachers and several doctoral students, established a precious documentation infrastructure for its students and researchers.

The doctoral students conduct research projects on topical issues relevant to the contemporary interconfessional and interreligious dialogue. Since 2008, in the faculty are organized every year scientific sessions with the participation of doctoral students from other faculties from the country and from abroad. The findings of these scientific meetings materialized in the publication of several volumes of studies.
